

Situation-specific Theory of Health Management in Heart Failure

Heart Failure (HF) is a chronic and progressive disease which individuals must be able to perform self-care activities in order to manage their health and prevent disease worsening. Nevertheless, the nursing diagnosis (ND) Ineffective

[A white rectangular box, likely a placeholder for text or a logo, located at the bottom left of the slide.]