

Invites you to attend

The 2017 Corcoran Chair Conference

The Gospel of John and Jewish-Christian Relations
April 2-3, 2017
Boston College

Murray Function Room, Yawkey Center
Chestnut Hill Campus
Sunday, April 2, 1:30-6:30 PM
Monday, April 3, 9:00 AM - 3:30 PM

The Gospel of John is one of the most beloved books of the Christian canon, appreciated and admired for its sublime theology and poetic language. But the Gospel is also the source of potent anti-Jewish ideas, including the association of the Jews with the devil, that persist to this very day. By focusing on such diverse areas as art, film, music and liturgy, on thinkers such as Luther and Bultmann, on Protestant, Catholic as well as Orthodox Christianity, and, of course, on the Fourth Gospel itself, this conference will consider the role that the Gospel has played and continues to play in Jewish-Christian relations.

Presenters

Michael Azar (University of Scranton)
R. Alan Culpepper (McAfee School of Theology, Mercer University)
Susannah Heschel (Dartmouth College)
Marcia Kupfer (Independent Scholar)
Michael Marissen (Swarthmore College)